Employer Solutions

Rising costs, policy changes, outcomes measurement, consumer involvement—these are not new issues to Ingenix. Ingenix continually responds with robust data, unrivaled methodologies, solid tools, analytics, and technical expertise to bring it all together.

Mission

Help solve your biggest business challenges through the effective management of health care costs, quality and productivity.

Overview

Data management and analysis is at the heart of everything Ingenix does. Ingenix has become one of the largest health data, information, and research companies, offering a comprehensive line of clinical, financial, and cost management solutions to address the growing information business needs of large employers, employer-based coalitions, government organizations, pharmaceutical companies, health insurers and other payers, care providers, and others who interface with the health care community. In fact, there is an Ingenix product at work in almost every U.S. health care organization. Our clients include more than 115 Fortune 500 and public sector organizations, 200,000 physician offices, 3,500 hospitals, 1,500 payers, and 140 pharmaceutical/biotechnology companies.

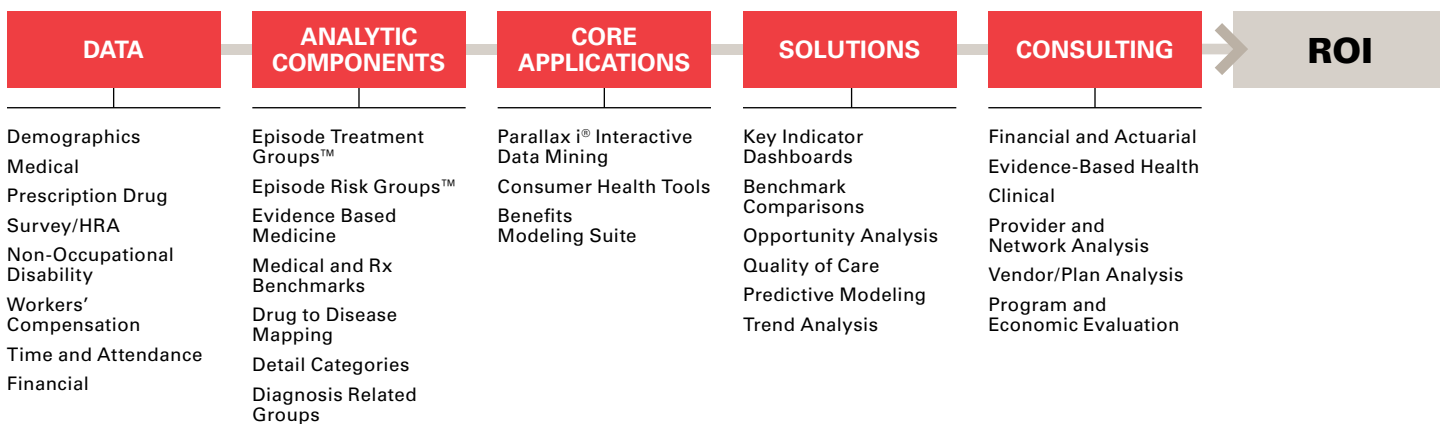

Ingenix has been conducting health care management, decision support and solution services for plan sponsors for 23 years (including our legacy organization Corporate Health Strategies®). Our core competencies provide employers with the data-driven capabilities to:

- Understand the organization’s true total benefits costs and how to manage them effectively.
- Analyze current and possible future cost allocations for health expense and identify how to drive expense reduction.
- Determine cost drivers and know how to change them in a way that improves plan performance.
- Understand the relationship between health care management and employee productivity.
- Provide information that empowers employees to take an active role in managing their health care expenses.
- Contribute expert assessment, advice and solutions that will enhance health for your employees and improve your bottom line.

Ingenix partners with large employers, including:

IBM Corporation	BellSouth	American Airlines
Southwest Airlines	DuPont	Honeywell
